ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Kirit Kumar began his career in 1986, specializing in the restoration of equipment and machinery affected by smoke, soot, water, floods, and other contaminants in Singapore. Over more than 35 years, he has built a reputation for handling large-scale, technically complex restoration projects across Asia.

Demonstrating both project leadership and deep technical expertise, Kirit expanded his work across Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, India, and the wider region, supporting restoration efforts in high-value industrial and commercial losses.

He has led recovery operations in major disasters, including the Thailand tsunami, the Bangkok floods, and large-scale flooding events in Malaysia. His experience spans sectors such as semiconductors, textiles, and automotive manufacturing, where precision restoration is critical to operational recovery.

Kirit is recognised for his ability to manage complex losses end-to-end — from contamination assessment to full restoration execution. In addition to his restoration expertise, he is a certified indoor air quality specialist, with deep capability in post-disaster environmental recovery.
